Marlin

For shooting the swift flying, heavily feathered ducks and geese the Marlin 12-gauge repeating shotgun has no superior. This gun is exceedingly strong in construction and yet is not heavy. It is loaded to throw an excellent pattern with great penetration. The solid top keeps out the weather and the brush and twigs of the blind, and the side ejection prevents the empty shells from being a nuisance to the shooter. It's the best bird weather gun.

The Marlin 12-gauge is suited to all forms of bird and trap shooting, and for duck hunting, and ease of action is unequalled. Made for both black and smokeless powder and for heavy loads. Two separate extractors make sure work.

The Marlin Experience Book is full of real shooting stories. Free, with 150-page Catalogue, for 3 stamps. Write to-day.

FOUND IN LIBRARY BOOKS.

Queer Things Left There by Absent-Minded Readers.

Strange fish come to the nets of the receiving clerks at public libraries when they examine the books returned by borrowers.

Perhaps the most common catch is a single long hair, precisely laid between two leaves. Statisticians might be interested to note that hair of a brunette character is more common than blond or near blond. Gray is seldom thus paraded.

Eye-glasses and spectacles are not uncommon finds, which might indicate that the reader, having waded so far, had no mind for any further reading.

Scraps of paper, occasionally an un-mailed letter, and proofs of photographs are common captures; but never a banknote, and, strange to say, never an unrecipited bill or comic valentine.

On the other hand more than once unpaid dinner checks have turned up, which would denote such devotion on the part of bluestockings that they cannot eat without print before them.

Side combs are said to make good markers, and parlor matches have a particular excellence for this purpose.

Coats, hats, waistcoats, shoes, suitcases and false teeth (not necessarily taken from returned books) have ended their days in this catchall. As yet there is no record of an abandoned infant having taken this channel.

WHAT A RACE SINGS ABOUT.

Each Nationality Has Its Own Range of Favorite Ballads.

"It may or may not be the case that a race's temperament can be judged from its folk songs," said a traveler, "but it is interesting to note the difference of subject matter in the songs of various peoples."

"The Irishman, for instance, seems to sing for the most part about his lady love. Hardly any of his songs are not addressed to his 'Somebody Mavourneen.'"

"The Scot, on the other hand, sings about his country and its history, as a rule 'Scots Wha Hae,' 'Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon,' 'Loch Lomond' and so on might be taken as examples."

"The Englishman, it is interesting to note, sings about himself all the time. His songs are about his own glory, his ships, his men, his power. He refers occasionally to old England, but only as a place he made famous by his own prowess. Unlike the Irish and the Scotch, he sings little of his women and his country's beauties."

Churches Build Roads.

No part of the Perikjomen valley having thus far received a share of the state's good roads appropriation, an energetic campaign for improved highways has been opened in this vicinity, and the two strongest and oldest churches of the region are lending hearty cooperation, says the Philadelphia Record.

The members of the New Goshen-hoppen Reformed church, who want the road from this borough to the church improved, have decided not to wait for state aid. They have effected an agreement with the supervisors of Upper Hanover township and will contribute $30 toward a fund for rebuilding the road, the township providing the remainder of the money.

The members of St. Paul's Lutheran church, which is also situated about a mile outside of town, on the opposite side of the borough, are engaged in a somewhat similar enterprise.

Simple Marriage Ceremonies.

Among the Garos in India it is the custom for the maiden to do the courting. At first the lover always refuses to marry the girl of his heart, but after a great deal of pleading and coaxing on her part he finally consents, and then she invites all her friends to come and make merry with her. When the feast is over, the guests carry the hostess to the river and give her a bath. Then the groom is also borne to the water edge and roundly ducked, after which a rooster and a hen are sacrificed, and the pair are declared man and wife.—Exchange.

What Did the Boy Mean?

The late Judge M. Russell Thayer, of Philadelphia, used to tell a good story about a brother jurist who was an enthusiastic golfer.

The golfing judge, according to the story, had occasion to interrogate in a criminal suit a boy witness from Bala.

"Now, my lad," he said, "I want to know if you are acquainted with the nature and significance of an oath?"

The boy, raising his brows in surprise, answered:

"Of course I am, sir. Don't I caddy for you at the Country club?"

Cooks Ruin Their Taste.

"I never season things up to my own taste," said a man who has cooked in a restaurant for many years. "Very few cooks do. They have palates that crave high seasoning. The longer they cook the more salt and pepper and spices they require. If I should send up my dishes as I like them they would be so hot and peppery that half the patrons in the restaurant would be unable to eat them."

Summary Criticism.

"When the people of our town out west discovered that the mayor had been misappropriating the public money, did they suspend him from office?"

"No; from a tree."—Baltimore American.
